

Goal Planning:

Purehandz, a multifaceted establishment, was founded by my grandfather. It serves the community as both a reliable water refilling station and a proficient printing shop. With a legacy rooted in providing quality services, Purehandz has become a trusted source for clean water and professional printing solutions. The vision and dedication of my grandfather continue to shape Purehandz into a beacon of excellence, catering to the diverse needs of our community.

I'm opting for a blue color palette for my website to align with the water theme. This choice, inspired by the color of water, not only adds a calming touch but also conveys reliability and trust. The shades of blue selected aim to create a visually appealing and cohesive online presence, reinforcing the brand's connection with water for a harmonious user experience.

I've streamlined the navigation for optimal user experience, featuring only essential tabs: Home, Services, About, and Contact Us. This minimalist approach ensures clarity and straightforwardness, eliminating unnecessary elements for a clean and efficient browsing experience. No frills, just easy access to key information.

I am in the process of turning these plans into reality. Subsequently, I will be adding content to the specified navigation points.
